THE RISE IN BREADSTUFFS.

BOW THE RUSSO-TURKISH WAR SENDS UP THE PRICE OF WHEAT, FLOUR AND CORN-SOME OPINIONS OF THE CAUSE OF THE ADVANCE-

ARE THE POSSIBILITIES DISCOUNTED? Since the receipt here of the first news of a really warlike character speculation has been very busy with prominent cities of the Union. Prices have very rapidly indeed, until at wheat is higher than it has ever been before in New York, making allowance or the excessively high price of gold at one period during the late civil war. The suddenness and magnilude of the present advance, which of course is primarily due to the actual commencement of hostilities abroad, can be more readily understood when it is thout any war abroad from its actual scarcity Such, at least is the explanation and others interested in the present movement of breadsinffs, and an inquiry into the statistics obtainable on the subject results in justifying their con-

It is found, for instance, that the visible supply of wheat on the 1st of April, 1877, was 8,641,436 bushels, against 15,421,105 bushels at the corresponding period of last year, and over 10,000,000 bushels at the 8th of April 1875. The deliveries at the Western river and lake ports also exhibit a considerable decrease. These were, for the week ending April 7, 239,375 bushels, against 602,835 bushels the corresponding week of 1876, and over 400,000 bushels the corresding week of 1875. The deliveries at the Atlantic seaboard ports also present the same contrast. They were, for that week, 57,500 bushels, against 528,715 bushels for the same period last year, and for the corresponding period of 1875, 623,100 bushels. The export clearances for the eight weeks previous were only 945,786 bushels against 4,067,238 bushels for the corresponding eight weeks of 1876-a decrease of conanderably more than 3 000 000 bushels. The stock in against 3,393,074 bushels for the corresponding week of the previous year. The condition of affeirs indicated by these comparisons had attracted the attention of speculators prior to the recent terious consideration of the prospect of a Russo-Turkish struggle. While the Powers were play-attention of speculators prior to the recent vertous consideration of the prospect of a Russe-Turkish struggle. While the Powers were playing last and loose the speculators were intently watching the sport and quietly advancing prices, and at last when it became apparent that war was inevitable, the awarde reached figures beyond even the most sanguine expectations of those who barganed for a rise.

THE SPRCULATIVE FRYEN.

Without waiting to pursue through their various ramifections, the reasons, depending on war, which would cause an advance, the speculators would reem to have jumped at conclusions aweeping enough to comprehend the remotest possibilities of war. Several days ago the belief of conservative people in and about the Produce Exchange was that at the time of the issuance of the Uzar's manifesto war effects were very generally and quite interally discounted. If you then asked them whether the golden opportunity was not at hand, they would have told you that, in their opinion, it was in the past, judging by the way prices had already jumped, and that theneoforward advances must depend upon the embarrassments arising in the European markets as one portaiter another was closed, and supplies of grain were held in check. But the more venturesome dealers were not to be set at rest so easily, and to the cost of the domestic consumer their expectations have continued to be realized. Since the beginning of the war the wheat explainment has advanced to nearly double what it was at the beginning of March. Flour, in a much shorter time, which exhibits, as it were, a reflection of the advance in wheat, is higher by $2 to $3 per barrel. Common extra State flour, which, early in March, was dull at $5 55 a $5 per barrel, was quested on Friday last in the produce market at $8 25 a $5 $6, and the neverte family brands, which had been slow of sale at $5 a $8 50, were then also held at $11 a $1 50. For a time the higher prices resulted in some increase in the supplies forwarded, as they also tended to curtail in some mea the disposition to purchase has increased as the war news has become more positive.

YESTERDAY'S KHIPKENTS.

Yesterday five occan steamers sailed for Europe all heavily laden and in a large proportion with breadstiffs at somewhat advanced freights. The names and destinations of the vessels are as follows:—City of herbin, of the luman line, for Liverpoot; Victoria, of the Anchor line, for Glasgow; Elysia, of the same line, for London; Baltic, of the White Star line, for Liverpoot; and the Weser, of the North German Lloyd line, for Bremen. A list of their freight reflects the present activity in produce, more particularly in breadstuffs.

The Wester carried to Bremen 19,000 busnels grain, 1,000 therees lard, 25 barrels pork,

The Weser carried to Bremen 15,000 bushels grain, 1,000 tierces lard, 25 barrels pork, 20 tierces beef, 75 hogsheads tobacco, 648 ceroous tobacco, 75 packages hand rakes, 35 packages mowers, 50 toos sundres. This includes a total of 1,000,000 pounds of tresh beef, 300,000 bushels of wheat and about 50,000 bushels of ocra.

The PROSPECTS CONSIDERED.

When news first come of the Russian advance into Roumania it became of interest to the graph tiade to know what Roumania would do under the circumstances. The exportable surplus of Roumania averages about 15,000,000 bushels of wheat. Will she remain passive? and if she does, will her ports on the Danabe be kept open? wore the questions naturally arising. Yesterday the corn market was affected very perceptibly by war nows, which was to the offect that the Danabian ports had been declared closed. This caused an excitement in maize on the other side and resulted here in an advance of about three cents a bushel.

resulted here in an advance of about three cengs a bushel.

Some profess to think that there is no conclusive reason for believing that Russia's surplus of grain will fail to find an ottlet at present. It may be restricted, they say, by the operation of the war, for army consumption, and by the fact shat agricultural pursuits will suffer from the interruption incident to prolonged hostinity. This, with other considerations, gives five to speculation as to the probable extent of the difficulty when once begun. It is estimated that about one-third of the Russian surplus of wheat for European bonsumption is furnished from the Biack Sea, besides the bulk of her grain exports. For some years back the quantities of wheat shipped from the northern and southern ports of Russia compare as follows:—

EFFECT ON RETAIL PRICES HERE. The effect of war excitements on prices for home consumption has begun aiready to be very sensitly felt in our retail markets. Prices yesterday are reported to have been very generally ligher, and in many cases for commodities not at all exportable. As in the war times here, retailers are prompt to seize on every pretext for an advance in prices, while they are not so quick to return to lower rates with a failing market.

ST. MARK'S HOTEL WAR.

The legal complications in relation to the possession of St. Mark's Hotel, Staten Island, and the ownership of the furniture thereof, seem not only not at an end, but not even decreasing. The proceeding heretofore pending before Justice W. W. Corbitt, in which the widow De Camp sought to dispossess Messra. Crawford & bempsey for non-payment of an alleged balance of rent, was disposed of yesterday by Mr. Boratio F. Averill, counsel for the defendants, entering a jougment in their tavor dismissing the proceedings of the plaintiff, with costs. This judgment was entered by tonsent of the plaintiff's counsel. By virtue of a writed to restaution, issued by Judge Prait, of Kings county, Crawlord & Dempsey had been put in possession, as already stated in the Heratio, but ten minutes thereafter a constable appeared, put them out and put the owner of the property, Mr. Taliman, in possession, an awarrant to dispossess insued by Justice Corbuit in his invariaging the widew he Camp. That counsel for Crawford & Dempsey construed to be a foreible entry on the part of Taliman, because the warrant nader which vas out of possession, and not against Crawford & Dempsey, who were in. Proceedings were then taken against Taliman for this alleged unlawful cutry, damages being named at a large sum, but in that proceeding it has now been held that Taliman's act Dempsey for non-payment of an alleged balance of

THE WOULD BE DUELLIST.

Mr. Throop, in his affidavit filed at the Fifty-seventh Street Court, says that on the 11th of April, Edward P. Price, of No. 51 West Thirty-third street, came to his house, between the hours of six and seven o'clock, went down, and Mr. Price and he went into a private parler. When the door had been closed Price turned quickly around, and addressing his companion in an excitable manner, said:"You have been saying all around, sir, that Mrs. Allen (Price's mother-in-law) has asserted that my wife was seeking a divorce from me."

was in the rumor I have sought Mrs. Allen and askedher what she knew about the matter," replied Mr.

"Then I demand an apology," cried Mr. Price,
"That I shall not give, sir," answered Throop.

"That I shall not give, sir," answered Throop.
"The is suppose you are prepared to meet me on the field of honor?"

"The meet you nowbers, sir. You are not worth my notice. Ducling is not my forte, and wero I to fight at all I'd not have anath to do with one who is not a gentieman. But, it you are seeking for revenge, I'll give you all the occasions you desire to prove how lowly I hold you in my estimation. Here is a sample."

Mr. Throop then spit in Mr. Price's face, "There," he said, "I dare you to resent the insuit."

"Where shall I'dind you?" shouled Mr. Price, "Where shall I'dind you?" shouled Mr. Price, "Where are you to be tound?

be 'may.''
Mr. Price here left the parlor. The affidavit further states that since the parlor scene the deponent Throop has neard that Mr. Price has requested Mr. Gifford Murray and Mr. Thomas Naime to act as seconds in the proposed affair of honor, and that both of those gentiemen had respectfully declined. The case will be examined into first week, when Mr. Price's side of the story will be made known.

ONE OF THE OXFORD EIGHT.

A young man with seedy habiliments and a general air of faded respectability, who gave his name as Will iam King, was arraigned at the Tombs Police Court yesterday, charged with drunkenness. The prisoner from Great Britain. He spoke rapidly but grammatically, and rolled out words of Greek origin with a familiarity that indicated good education.

"The statement of the officer of the law is accurate. even to the minutest detail, Your Honor," he observed, gracefully waving his hand toward the policeman. "I was, I regret to admit, reclining on the sidewalk from the effects of a too frequent indulgence in the seductive

"Yes, you were very drunk," remarked the magis-"Yes, you were very drunk," remarked the magis-trate, consolinsly.
"But, Judge," said the prisoner, with a winning smile, "I assure you the incident is one of rare occur-rence, and with your kind permission I will now re-tire, promising you to place an insurmountable barrier for all future time between the while cup and my lips, and that barrier shall be the firm resolve of a determined man." The prisoner indicated the seat of such resolve by placing his hand on his muddy shirt over his heart and swing three thumps.

marked the Judge.

"Then if you direct my mearceration in the fair island of Blackwell! presume it will result in my again becoming a bookkeeper."

"Ah! then, have you been on the island before?" asked the Court.

"Ah! then, have you been on the island before?" asked the Court.

"Well, yes; an unflinching regard for truth impels me to the admission. The warden put me on the boat as an oarsman because I was one of the Oxford eight, you know; but I did not relish it, so he made me bookkeeper, and I have no doubt the authorities will adopt a like course on this occasion."

"No doubt," echoed the magistrate.
The accomplished prisoner then recited portions of his past history, speaking in a light and airy ven:—"I am," said he, "a graduate of Magdalene College, Oxtord, and have been employed as transcriber in the Court of Common Pieas here. I was also a sketch painter in Central Park. On particularly festive occasions I taste the sweets of Bacchus, for doing which I invariably become involved in misunderstandings with the local government."

The prisoner received his sentence of three days in the City Prison with a Chesterdeldian bow.

TOO MUCH MARRIED.

Aaron J. Cortissoz, bookbinder, of No. 319 West Forty-seventh street, who with his wife Henrietta created such a sensation in the Yorkville Police Court on the 28th of March last regarding the custody of their children, was arraigned before Judge Murray at Jefferson Market Court, yesterday, on present, as was also Mrs. Cortissoz No. 2, and Mr. Cortissoz admitted having married both of them. He explained that he left. New York for San Francisco some years ago, taking with him his two children, because he did not think his first wife was a proper guardian for them. When he came back he discovered that she was hiving in open adultery with another man. He had an interview with her, and she told him that she had procured a divorce and wished to hid him "goodby." On her statement he ventured to marry Maria Sallman, who had taken care of his children ever since. The second wife was very earnest in her protestations against any criminal intent on the part of either herself or Mr. Cortissoz, and the Court was fain to believe that Mr. Cortissoz was an injured man, especially as it was adduced on investigation that when he discovered that his former wife han not procured any divorce he applied for one himself and had lived separate from Mrs. Cortissoz No. 2 since that suit was institued. Judge Murray held Cortissoz in $500 bail to answer, and both parties will have an opportunity of argaing their status before a jury in the Court of General Sessions. present, as was also Mrs. Cortissoz No. 2,

Fifth avenue and West Third street, and soon became quarrelsome. Mr. Isced attempted to eject them, when he received a blow in the back of the head from a stungshot. The fight then became general, and, as all the parties concerned used knives, none escaped uninjured. They were all arrested and takes to the Mercer street station house, where their wounds were dressed, after which they were locked up for the night. Yesterday Mr. Isaac Reed and his three quarrelsome customers, whose names are Thomas Emperor, of Pennsylvania; Joseph Huif alias Joseph Johnson and Walter Ward were arranged before Judge Murray. They were a sorry looking sight as they came into the court room with their beads bandiged and their shirts and clothing covered with blood. Reed preferred a charge of relonious assault against Johnson; Johnson preferred a similar charge against Reed; Huif preferred the same charge against Emperor, and the result was that all were committed for trial at General Sessions.

A PILOT'S SUIT FOR SLANDER.

Suit has been commenced in the Brooklyn City Court, by John Hopkins against John 1. Godbey, to recover damages in the sum of $10,000. The parties to the action are pilots, and the plaintiff alleges that to the action are pilots, and the plaintiff alleges that the defendant said of bim, "He is a thief; he and Crosby rotibed the Contenual of $2,000." The answer of defendant sets forth that he and the plantiff built the pilotbeat Centennial, and that Mr. Hopkins, though only pert owner, took an eath at the Custom House that he was sole owner. He also alleges that the plantiff retained certain money, which had been subscribed for a set of calors for the boat, and that when asked by defendant to account therefor he heat him. A motion has been made to strike out parts of the answer to the complaint. Decision was reserved.

SMUGGLED GOODS.

The seizure department of the Custom House was enriched by an addition of six barrels of sugar, which Inspectors Francis Gay and A A. Foster seized at Sacgest street, Brooklyn, on supposition that it was being smuggled. As the papers bled in the seizure

THE COMMISSIONERS WHO STEP DOWN AND OUT NEXT TUESDAY-MAYOR ELY'S SLATE-POLIT-ICAL DARGAIN AND SALE-THE INSIDE HIS-TORY OF DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN COM-BINATIONS.

On next Tuesday Mayor Ely will have an opportunity of sending into the Board of Aldermen the names of gentlemen desirous of serving the city in the Departments of Docks, Fire, Taxes, Parks, Health and Police. The term of one Commissioner from each of these de-partments expires on that date. City Chamberlain Tappan was appointed by Mayor Wickham in place of Mr. George W. Lane, so that gentleman will have to retire unless reappointed by the democratic powers now ruling our city government.

POLITICAL LOG-ROLLING.

It will lie entirely with the mandates of Comptroller Kelly and Mayor Ely as to who will succeed in carrying off the valuable Commissionership prizes. In conversation with a number of politicians yesterday a HERALD reporter was informed that there was now not the slightest chance of a divergence from the and republicans of this city for a division of the loaves and fishes. "Why," remarked one, "this compact is and the republicans. Last fall there was great danger of and the republicans. Last fall there was great danger of a combination between the anti-Tammanyites, republicans and German democracy against Tammany's candidates. It was then teared, with good foundation, that the candidates of such a coalition would leave the Wigwam pariots far behind in the race. To defeat such a possible contingency it became necessary to buy off the enemy. Certain places were promised to the republicans if they placed a straight ticket in the field and gave the cold shoulder to the anti-Tammanyites and Germans. A large tund was also raized, which went into the pockets of certain enhibent statesmen in the ranks of the opposition. This latter consideration was the most effectual argument in destroying Tammany's opponents. Now comes the time for a settlement of the second section in this unbody contract. It looks as if a hitch has developed used somewhere; but I can tell you the hitch only means an adroit movement to scare of certain republicans who have undertaken to strike at Tammany Hall through the Legislature. The thing will work in the old groove toward the end. Mayor Ely and Comptroller Kelly understand the situation thoroughly and will play the political game of cheese with consummate abinty. The PROMARE SLATE.

The above in brief seems to be a pretty plausible explanation of the present deadlock between Mayor Ely and the Board of Aldermen in the matter of appointments of Commissioners. The Board will meet next Tuesday, but it is probable that the nominations will not be each in until the following week.

From excellent authority the following names are suggested for the various offices:

Poince Commissioner—Salem H. Wales; salary, $6,500.

Dock Commissioner—Salem H. Wales; salary, $6,500. combination between the anti-Tammanyites, republi-

Dock Commissioner—Salem H. Wales; salary, $5,300.
Commissioner of Charities and Correction—Thomas S. Brennan; salary, $6,500.
Fire Commissioner—John J. Gorman; salary, $5,000.
Commissioner of Taxes—George H. Andrews; salary, $5,000.

Commissioner of Taxes—George H. Andrews; saiary, $5,000.

City Chamberlain—Nelson J. Tappan; allowed $30,000 annually for the expenses of his office.

It is understood that neither Charles F. Chandler, President of the Health Department, nor William R. Martin, President of the Park Department, will be reappointed. A good deal of opposition has arisen to further continuance in office of either of those gentlemen. It will be seen that there are three preminent names mentioned for the Police Commissionership. Up to yesterday the chances seemed to favor Mr. Hess. He has held the positions of Alderman and member of Assembly, where he made an excellent record, and is likely to have the Cornell and Conking interests with him. Mr. Manniere was formerly a member of the Police Board when the appointing power was vested in the hands of the Governor. The genieman was placed in the Board by Governor Seymour, his colleagues being Messrs. Acton, Bosworth and McMurray.

MUNICIPAL NOTES.

Certain members of the Board of Aldermen favor newsdealers. Iruit venders and others to crect stands in various streets. Mayor Ely has expressed himself as opposed to such obstructions, and it is understood that he will veto the resolutions now in his hands on that he will vete the resolutions now in his hands on those subjects.

A biushing lady of fourteen summers called upon Mayor Ely yesterday, in company with a male companion not much older. The couple desired to be united in the hely conds of wedlock. His Honor retused to perform the ceremony, in view of the youthfulness of the parties.

Collector of Assessments Gilon reports having received $21,078 66 during the past week.

COST OF WATER.

The Water Department of Brooklyn has sent in an estimate of the amount required for the maintenance of that department for the year ending April 30, 1878. The Commissioners ask for $228,344. The Aldermanic Committee on Water and Drainage bave reduced the estimate by cutting off $16,000, and further reductions will be made.

DEPARTMENT OF BUILDINGS.

Plans for the erection of nineteen new buildings, to cost $281,000, and forty-seven plans for alterations and repairs, at a cost of $78,120, were filed with the Super intendent of Buildings during the week.

BOWLING GREEN SAVINGS BANK.

The report of Mr. Nathaniel Jarvis, referee in the natter of Shepherd F. Knapp, receiver of the Bowling Green Savings Bank, was filed in the office of the County Cterk yesterday. The report states that in June, 1875, the receiver collected $275,163 and ex pended $225,929 92. The attorneys for the creditors filed objections to this account, claiming that it was the duty of the receiver to show by evidence the necessity of the debts and the jurposes for which they were incurred. The referee ruled on the hearing that the accounts were prima facie evidence of the propriety and correctness thereof. He finds that the receiver's counsel fees are $5,978 92, which will be allowed, and to the other counsel in the case as follows:—Devim, Miller & Mill, $2,300; Marsh & Wallis, $1,000; White & Bush, $1,000; the receiver, for commissions, $13,758. The referee also states that the receiver has on hand $45 233 08 in cash, of which $23,688 09, with interest from December 7, 1873, is on deposit with the United States Trust Company, of which $5,68 22 is the amount of the first and second dividends uncalled for, loaving a balance of $5,926 27, and that the receiver also bolds some real estate and uncollected debts. filed objections to this account, claiming that it was

MORRISANIA SAVINGS BANK.

The efforts made during the past few weeks to induce a sufficient number of the decositors in the suspended German Savings Bank of Morrisania to sign an agreecent of their respective deposts at the expiration of twelve months and without interest, to enable the bank twelve months and without interest, to enable the bank to resume business, have proved futile, and it is now determined that the Attorney General shall appoint a receiver. Out of the $250,000 due to depositors, signatures representing a lattle over $196,000 were obtained, but the remaining depositors steadily retused to sign the agreement, with the avowed intention of demanding the full amount of their deposits as soon as the bank reopened. It is understood that the Attorney General has signified his willingness to be guided by the wishes of the depositors in the selection of a suitable person to wind up the affairs of the institution. The total assets of the bank are $231,162 89; inbilities, $279,278 55, leaving a deficiency of $45,115 50.

THE BANK STATEMENT.

Government Bonds Steady-Railroads Generally Higher.

The opening of the board this morning was awaited with a good deal of anxiety, the announcement of the suspension of Messrs, E. N. Robinson & Co. having so immediately preceded the close of business as to leave was going to be. It followed that the entire army of speculators passed the night in a state of supreme suscavalry-afoot or aborseback. The doubt was not entirely dissipated until after midday, when the market fairly took the bit in its teeth and gailoped out of the reach of bears and their influences. Previous to this, erable sensitiveness and irregularity, the inclinastate of "ouiver" that would not have disgraced a first class aspen loaf. tainty was principally occasioned by the closing up, "under the rule," of the outstanding contracts with to buy, were handed up to the chairman, Messra. Robinson & Co. having ingeniously managed to get exhibiting the counterfeit presentment of that patriotic, but usually profitiess, bird known in the street as a "spread eagle." This process of liquidation extended to the buying and selling of some 15,000 shares, of which nearly 4,000 were Delaware and Lackawanna and 1,000 Lake Shore, the remainder being spread over the other active stocks of the list. The above amount, however, probably represents no more than one-quarter of the contracts outstanding, the bulk of them being settled quietly in the open taking the shape, as it did, of purchases to cover shorts, the market naturally improved under the dework of advancing prices, while the joint influence being brought to bear was threatening enough or persuasive enough to convert even the "bow windew" bears, and set them long of the market. Still another element of strength was to be found in the bank statement, with its increase of $3,000,000 legal tenders, $2,500,000 deposits, and its decrease of $1,750,000 in to this centre, and at the same time promises easy money for the tuture. The stocks chiefly benefited to-day were the coal carriers, Western Union, Lake Shore, Rock Island, Central and Hudson and Illinois Central, the improvement ranging from 1 to 4 per

This is satisfactory enough for one day. It would be still more so could we detect any signs of permanency in the movement. Unbappily it exhibits all the traits of a purely stockjobbing venture, founded upon an unduly oversold market and lavored at the coment by extraneous causes. It is as absurd to suppose that we are going to take a sudden plunge into prosperity as it was to imagine that all Stock Exchange proporties were empty shells. No well founded improve-ment can be other than a slow one, and its basis must be restored confidence and the presence of a public willing to buy and pay for such securities as are contessed to be cheap and desirable. So far there is but slight evidence of the existence of either. THE SALES TO-DAY.
